

Thurston County

Web Access: <http://www.nw-weather.net/ThurstonCounty.pdf>

24/7 Toll Free: 1-800-937-8676

Web Click Options: RADAR SATELLITE Mesowest

Forecast Date: Friday, May 18, 2012

Time Issued: 8:28 PM

Forecast Begins: 6:00 AM

Forecaster: TAF

Definition and Policy on "Concern Levels" at:

<http://www.nw-weather.net/concernlevels.htm>

Click to Send Feedback & Comments

Discussion

There is a threat of drizzle early this morning then dry conditions return later this morning and afternoon with partial clearing. Dry and cool tonight, but no weather concerns. Sunny and warmer Saturday with no new weather concerns expected.

Alerts

No concerns ...

	Weather	Temp (F)	Wind (mph)	Rainfall (inches)	Snow Level (ft)	Road Snow (inches)	F	I	S	W
Friday	Morning clouds, then partial afternoon clearing. Threat of drizzle before 9 am.	62	NW 10-15	0.00 - 0.01	~4,000 ft		0	0	0	0
Friday Night	Partly cloudy. Dry.	35	Light				0	0	0	0
Saturday	Partly to mostly sunny.	67	NNW 5-15				0	0	0	0

Extended Forecast

Likely dry for much of the day Sunday with mild temperatures. There is a threat of a few showers developing later Sunday afternoon and evening, tapering off overnight. Steady rain threats increase Monday afternoon. Storm activity remains near the area through the middle of next week with rain or showers at times, along with dry windows, and no major weather concerns expected at this time. Watch updates!

]